Numb. 489.

THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From February 23. to March 3. 1736,7.

LONDON, September 25.

THEY write from Maſſa Carrazza, that there has been found at Rochebagne, in the Mountains which produce that fine Marble which is uſed in the Statues, a very plentiful Mine of Copper and Veins of Red Lead; and that many People of Experience affirm, that if they dig to the Centre, they will aſſuredly find a rich Gold Mine; and a great many Men are accordingly at Work.

London, Octob. 5.

The following Letter has been ſent by the Pope to the Elector of Mentz and other Princes of the Empire of his Communion, exhorting them to oppoſe the Repeal of the Clauſe of the 4th Article of the Treaty of Ryſwick.

Venerable Brother, Greeting, and our Apoſtolical Benediction.

AS it is very proper that we who are charged with the Care and Duties of the Apoſtleſhip, ſhould be animated with a continual Vigilance and Attention, to heal the Wounds of the Church when there is any Appearance of Succeſs; ſo our Conſcience could not reſt quiet after we heard that the Dyet of Ratisbon, in Contempt of the 4th Article of the Treaty of Ryſwick, conſented two Years ago that the Catholick Religion ſhould be aboliſhed in a great many Parts of Germany, where the ſame had been again introduced and reſtored. Your Fraternity, to whom we wrote upon that Head, is not ignorant of the Complaints that we made, nor of the Exhortations and good Offices that we employ'd to divert that Storm from your illuſtrious People.

They who are willing to be excus'd from their Efforts to remedy this Evil, did ſome of them plead the Calamity of the Times, and others the Circumſtances of War: But now ſince the Peace, the Fondations of which are laid, will ſhortly be concluded, that Plea can ſubſiſt no longer. Therefore we earneſtly deſire of you, That by virtue of your Eccleſiaſtical and Electoral Dignity, you would zealouſly employ your ſelf that the 4th Article of the Treaty of Ryſwick may be preſerved entire; and moreover, that it may be confirm'd in the new Treaty for a general Peace, as it was in the Congreſs of Baden in Switzerland. If Things ſhould take a Turn contrary to our Hopes (which Evil God forbid) we ſhould have reaſon to be ſurpriz'd, and complain bitterly to find the Enterprizes of Foreigners to baniſh the true Faith from Places where it was eſtabliſhed, attended with more Succeſs than our Vigilance to maintain it.

We propoſe to make uſe of all the Power in our Hands, and in thoſe of the Holy Apoſtolical See for that Purpoſe. We raiſe our Voice that a proper Remedy may be applied to this Evil, before it grows dangerous. We are not willing, either by our Negligence, or by our Silence, to take the Blame of others upon our ſelves; and to the end that you may labour effectually with the ſame Spirit, we give you, Venerable Brother, our Apoſtolical Benediction in all its Plenitude.

Done at Rome, at St. Mary Major under the Seal of the Fiſher in the Year 1736, and of our Pontificate the 6th.

The Elector-Archbiſhop of Mentz has return'd an Anſwer to the Letter which the Pope wrote to exhort him to oppoſe the Revocation of this Clauſe, purporting, that "as this Revocation has been ſolemnly "promis'd by France to Great-Britain and "Holland, and the granting it at this Time "abſolutely

" abſolutely neceſſary to oblige thoſe Pow" ers, that they may be induc'd to ſet their " Hands to the perfecting the General Peace,
" he thinks, the furthering the Tranquility
" of Europe of more Conſequence than any
" little Punctilio to the Church, in Defence
" of which, however, in Matters of Im" portance, he is ready to ſacrifice his " Life, &c.

The Pope, reduced to the laſt Neceſſity, and ſtripped by his undutiful Children, is in a fair way of retrieving his Loſſes, by a copious Silver Mine, which was diſcovered lately in the Mountains of Sybilla, near the City of Norica. The Diſcoverer however, who is a Spaniard, is to have the ſole Benefit of it, till he can come at the principal Vein; and the Governors of Montalto and Macerate, are ordered to lend him all the Aſſiſtance they can.

London, Nov. 9. The Turks, ſince they concluded a Treaty with Perſia, are grown as inſolent and imperious as they were before cringing and ſubmiſſive; they are now indifferent whether the Czarina agrees to a Peace; and as for the Emperor, it is inferred they are determined to attack him, becauſe they refuſe to ſuffer his Miniſter, Count Dahlman to [illegible] of Ambaſſador Extr[illegible] the Imperial Infantry has actually paſſed the Save, and will ſoon be followed by the Cavalry; which Step will undoubtedly be looked upon by the Porte as a Declaration of War.

There does not ſeem to be the leaſt of an hoſtile Diſpoſition in the Courts of Lisbon and Madrid towards each other; on the contrary, nothing but Friendſhip and Civility paſſes between them. His Catholick Majeſty has made publick Rejoycings three Days ſucceſſively for the Birth of the Infanta of Portugal, and ſent his congratulary Compliments thereupon to his Portugueſe Majeſty; whoſe Brother Prince Manuel is now at Valadolid, and is obſerved to frequent the Churches of that City every Day with extraordinary Devotion. He gave the Court of Spain to underſtand, that he ſhould like very well to live in that Kingdom; but being anſwered, that it was apprehended the Air would not agree ſo well with his Health, he is preparing to proceed to France the uſual Receptacle of all illuſtrious Refugees.

Several Bodies of Tartars advance from Time to Time very cloſe to Aſoph and Derbent; but upon the Appearance of ſome Detachments from the Garriſons of thoſe Places, they immediately take to their Heels.

Rome, if we credit the Advices from thence, is at preſent as fruitful in Saints, as it was formerly in Heroes, Philoſophers, and Poets: There are now two ready to be canonized in that City, viz. the Princeſs Clementina Sobieski, whoſe Virtues are ſaid to ſhine ſo bright, even after her Death, that they admit of no doubt or Diſcuſſion: However, the Pope for Form's Sake, has ordered her Life and Converſation to be ſtrictly enquired into about the Beginning of this Month, in order to qualify her for a Place in the Kalender. The other Candidate for the Saintſhip is a Franconian Lay-Brother, who died ſome Weeks ago, and whoſe pious Life is ſaid to have been confirmed by extraordinary Miracles, ſuch as expelling the Devil, and reſtoring Sight to the Blind. The Day after his Death his Body was expoſed in the Church belonging to his Convent; which drew thither ſuch vaſt Crowds to tear off Pieces of his Garment, in order to preſerve the ſame as Reliques that the Guards were forced to be [illegible] ders.

Thurſday Novem. 11. 1736.

Our Advices from Spain bring the Confirmation of the Death of Don Joſeph Patinho, Prime Miniſter of Spain, which was on the 18th of October, O. S. He has died with the Character of an eminent Polititian, a great Benefactor to his Country, a good Paymaſter, and a Gentleman of the moſt humane and polite Diſpoſition. His Death was much lamented in Spain, eſpecially by her Catholick Majeſty, who ſince that Event has not appeared in publick. His Employments are to be divided among ſeveral Perſons; who will have good Luck if they all make up the Character of this accompliſhed Miniſter, eſpecially in the Eye of thoſe by whom he was favoured. But 'tis obſerved that the Perſons beſt qualified to ſucceed him are thought to be intirely in the Intereſt of his Royal Highneſs the Prince of Aſturias, and of the native Spaniards. 'Twas thought that the Count de Montijo ſtood a very good Chance in ſucceeding him in ſome of his Poſts, particularly in that which regards the Adminiſtration of Affairs in the Weſt-Indies: The freſheſt Letters from thence take Notice, that that he has not so great an Interest as was imagined, and that his Views in this respect are likely to meet with great Opposition. Mean while, the Affairs of the South-Sea Company, as well as other Affairs of the Spanish Monarchy, remain in Statu quo pendulo as they call it. 'Tis thought that the Administration there will receive great Alterations; and 'tis not known particularly when they will determine about the Schedula for the annual Ship: However, it is said that that Act will certainly be transmitted hither; but 'tis very happy if it comes before the Armadilla, as they affect to call it, is ready to sail for the West-Indies.

One of the foreign Writers gives this Account of him;

'Don Joseph Patinho, was originally a 'Milaneze, and had two Brothers, one 'known by the Name of the Marquis Cas-'tellar, who was twice the King of Spain's 'Ambassador in France, and died a few 'Years ago; but the other is still living, 'and has an Abby in the Lomeline; ha-'ving a natural Genius for Business, he en-'ter'd very young into a Religious Order, 'which has the Reputation, whether true 'or not, of having a very great Share in 'the temporal Concerns of Europe: But 'as he was to act his Part barefac'd on the 'Theatre of the Universe, the same divine 'Providence which had limited his spiritual 'Vocation to a certain Number of Years, 'took him out of that Order when those 'Years were expired; so that from Rome 'where he then was, he went to Milan, and 'from Milan to Paris, from whence his 'Brother, the Spanish Ambassador there at 'that Time, sent him to Spain, where he 'was soon after employed in the Navy-Of-'fice. He first began to be taken Notice 'of towards the Close of the Administrati-'on of Cardinal Alberoni, and his Merit 'blaz'd out in such a Degree under that 'of Ripperda, that after the said Duke's 'Disgrace, it was not long before he had a 'Share with the Marquis de la Paz in the 'Management of all Affairs under the 'Queen's Direction. The Journey of their 'Majesties to the Portuguese Frontier, and 'the long Stay of the Court afterwards for 'a political Reason at Seville, gave him 'an Opportunity to raise himself by De-'grees upon the Ruins of the Marquis de 'Paz. After this, Don Joseph Patinho was 'sole Master at the Helm, with the Title of 'Secretary of all the Dispatches, and he 'would have died with Pleasure, says our 'Author, if he could have brought about his 'grand Point in View, viz. The Reduction 'of his Native Country, under the Domi-'nion of Spain.

October 15. Letters from Vienna by the Way of Cologne say, the Grand Vizier is returned from the Army to Constantinople, together with the Czarina's Minister; from whence 'twas inferred, that Russia would certainly be included in the Peace between the Turks and Persians.

The Letters from Paris mention the Death of the Duke d'Antin on Friday last, and that the Duke de Richelieu, is very ill of the Sciatica.

A Merchant Ship of Marseilles arrived lately at Havre, which coming out of the Streights, met with a Corsair of Sallee, who made up to her with all the Sail he could, and being advanced within Cannon Shot, let fly all his Guns at her. The Captain of the Marseilles Ship having survey'd the Rover, and finding that he carry'd 24 Guns and about 200 Men, resolved to defend his Ship, tho' she had but 60 Men and 6 Guns; and maintain'd a Fight of 5 Hours with the Sallee Man, who after the Loss of 75 Men; besides the wounded, (of whom above 20 were killed by a young Fellow of Marseilles that stood upon Deck) tho't fit to sheer off, and left the Marseilles Ship, which had but 20 Men killed and wounded, to proceed in her Voyage. Her Cargo consisted of 150 Tuns of Oil, and 1200 Chests of Soap, &c.

Bristol, Nov. 4. Last Wednesday was was thrown ashore, at Powderham in Devonshire, that wonderful Fish call'd the Toad-Fish or Fishing-Frog. Tis 4 Foot long, has a Head like a Toad, with a Mouth large enough to take in a middle-siz'd Dog, it opening 12 Inches wide. He has two little Feet coming out of his Belly like the Feet of a Goose. One of this kind was dissected in the Presence of King Charles II. at the College of Physicians.

We hear there is lately invented by Mr. John Merchant at Tunbridge-Wells in Kent, a Machine for raising Water out of Wells, tho' ever so deep, and without any manner of Force, either of Horse or Man; it will continually supply a Cistern, and keep it full for any Uses, either by Day or Night, without requiring any Attendance.

Its Performance has been seen and much approv'd by several good Judges, particularly by a Fellow of the Royal Society; and is

is very much admired for the Utility of it, as well as for the Simplicity of its Parts, which are but few, and not liable to be out of Order or want Repairs as other Engines do. And it is allowed, by thoſe who have ſeen its Performance, to be the moſt uſeful and ſervicable Invention that ever has been found out, for ſupplying Gentlemen's Seats and Gardens with Water, though ſituated upon Hills where they have not the Conveniency of Rivulet or Pool. It will alſo ſerve for Brewing and Malting Offices, and ſave the Expence of keeping a Horſe, or Servants Wages, to pump up Water for any Uſe.

Williamsburg, Jan. 7. We hear from Middleſex County, That the Small-Pox, is got into ſome Families in that Neighbourhood, of which ſome Perſons have died. It ſeems it was firſt brought into Mr. Chriſtopher Robinſon's Family, by a Slave of his, who ran away, and was taken up and committed to Philadelphia Goal, where it's believ'd he receiv'd the Infection; for within a Day or Two after he was brought Home, the Small-Pox broke out on him, of which he died; this communicated it to others of the Family, and ſo it ſpread about further.
